BASIC-ABSTRACT:

NOVELTY - A shoes vending machine for conveniently providing various kinds of shoes to consumers at a site adjacent to one's residence in order to meet various tastes of consumers.

DETAILED DESCRIPTION - When a consumer pushes a selection button, a withdrawing means (18) is rotated so that a plate (22) installed movably at the lower part of a shoes receiving chamber (26) for preventing discharge of shoes is opened. Right after discharging a pair of shoes corresponding to cash input, a solenoid valve (21) regulates an interrupter (24) to exactly control the number of shoes to be vented. In the case that the bottom side of a casing (25) is closed with upwardly drawing the plate (22), the solenoid valve operated by electric force draws the interrupter so that a pair of shoes is placed between the interrupter (24) and the plate (22) for the next vent.
